Farmers' Convention Passed Strenuous Resolutions At Last Evening's Meeting.

ARGUED SALOONS HURT FARMER

Great Gathering At Madison Closed Today--Has Been Well Attended From All Parts Of The Country.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—After a long and vigorous debate last night, the Farmers' National congress adopted a resolution demanding a federal law to absolutely prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal and scientific uses, and also expelling denatured alcohol.

The opponents of the resolution declared that to adopt such a demand would make the congress redoubtable in the public eye and that the demands made by the congress would no longer have the effect that they have heretofore had with the legislatures of the states and with congress.

Nevertheless, a majority of the meeting insisted upon adopting the resolution as expressing a right idea and declared that prohibition was one of the things needed and also that the farmers of the country would be the chief beneficiaries if the saloons were driven out of existence.

A large number of the people in the meeting were women and others who are not delegates, but even without these it is thought that the resolution would have been adopted, as the delegates to the farmers' congress are prohibitionists.

The first proposal for prohibition was made on the opening day of the congress in the address of the vice president, Joshua Strango of Indiana, and the subject has been mentioned frequently with approval by other speakers.

A significant fact is that many of the prohibitionist delegates come from Wisconsin, and it is thought that the next legislature will on this account give more serious consideration to the county option bill which will be introduced by Senator H. W. Barker.

Among other resolutions adopted by the congress are demands for state and federal appropriations for agricultural schools and experiment stations, favoring deep waterway appropriations by congress, heartily approving the state fund for President Roosevelt in the direction of conservation of natural resources and thanksgiving for the good arrangements made for the congress.

The meetings close today. The university has been of great help in entertaining the convention, the department of agriculture especially interesting itself and by many ways making the stay of the farmers intensely profitable as well as interesting.

TRUST COMPANIES DISCUSSED TODAY

Trust Company Section of American Bankers Association Met Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Denver, Colo., Sept. 29.—An interesting programme was carried out today at the annual meeting of the trust company section of the American Bankers Association. The meeting was called to order at the Brown Palace Hotel this morning by the president, Philip B. Babcock of New York. An address of welcome by Governor Buchtel was followed by the annual reports of the officers.

When committees had been appointed and other routine business disposed of the meeting listened to addresses as follows: "New York City Trust Company under present legislation," Lawrence L. Allison, vice president of the Equitable Trust Company of New York; "The Trust Company, A Necessity," Brockbridge Jones, president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company of New York; "Industrialism vs. Conservation," F. H. Fries, president of the Wachovia Loan and Trust Company of Winston-Salem, N. C.; and "Securities Held in Trust, Methods for the Control and Safeguarding them from loss and for their Proper Accounting," Joseph N. Babcock of New York City.

The convention of the American Bankers Association, of which the trust company section is a part, will begin its sessions in the Auditorium tomorrow morning.

LONDON ELECTS NEW LORD MAYOR TODAY

Election is Now Merely Matter of Form as Oldest Alderman Gets Office.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, Sept. 29.—Having set sight as an alderman for twenty-five years, and filled the office of sheriff for one term, Sir George Trevellick today went through the solemn form of being elected Lord Mayor of the city of London. Time was some 200 or more years ago, when the lords mayors were really elected by the citizens. But the aldermen, they are elected for life, took counsel among themselves, and decided that a position so exalted as that of lord mayor should not be thrown open to outsiders and made dependent on popular favor. Consequently they fixed things up so that every alderman, if he lives long enough, is assured of becoming a lord mayor. When the last lord mayor was elected Sir George was next in line for the honor and now it is his turn to take the civic chair.

The election, which always takes place on Michaelmas Day, is one of the most quaint and striking ceremonies of the city of London that have survived the change of centuries. On the day of the election the court of aldermen and common council, and members of the ancient city companies or "livery" assemble in the Guildhall. Outside the building a barrier is stretched, in which stand a score of gates bearing the names of the city companies, "The Clothworkers," "The Fishmongers," "The Drapers" and so on. Outside the gates sweet herbs are strewn to preserve the civic dignitaries from the fumes of the crowd. This survival forever amuses the present day crowd, and is an object lesson in the progress of civilization.

The new lord mayor, who will be inducted into office with the customary elaborate parade and ceremonies on November 9, is a son of the late Alderman Sir Francis Trevellick, who was lord mayor in 1879-80. Sir George Trevellick succeeded his father as alderman of Dowgate Ward in 1885, having for thirteen years previously been a member of the common council. He was sheriff in 1903, and was knighted on the visit of President Loubet to the city. He is the head of the firm of Messrs. James Trevellick and Son, printers and stationers.

COTTON MEN GATHER IN A BIG SESSION

National Association of Cotton Manufacturers Gather in Semi-Annual Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The eighty-fifth semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, which has been in continuous existence since 1845, opened here today for a two days session. The gathering was called to order in the ball room of the United States hotel at 10 o'clock this morning by Charles T. Plunkett of Adams, Mass.

The programme provides for papers, followed by discussions, on the following subjects: Cotton fiber substance and its properties, commutator, grinding, low pressure steam turbines, importance of forest preservation for manufacturers, measurements of power and its transmission, standards and specifications for staple gray goods, textile fabrics and their consumers, modern methods of dyeing in cotton mills, and the relationship between combs and flyers upon cotton roving machines.

M'GOVERN FILES CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Says It Cost Him $11,053.86 To Be Defeated for Senator.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 29.—Francis M. McGovern, leading apostle of reform and disciple of purity of action and recently defeated candidate for the republican nomination for U. S. senator, today filed his statement of expenses which occurred in the primary campaign. The statement of Mr. McGovern's expenses call for the startling sum of $11,053.86. This is believed to have been the largest sum ever spent for a nomination up to this year. This speaks well for the difference between preaching and practice. The original statement of expense was filed with the secretary of state at Madison and a duplicate copy was filed with the register of deeds, Chase, Minn., as required by the law. Mr. McGovern's statement is the first senatorial statement to be filed.

The largest item on the statement seemed to be the expense for printing which was said to be $2182.11. The next largest was that incurred for postage stamps, $1828. The amount paid for organizing outside of Milwaukee county was $1270.14. While the expense of organizing in the county was given as $1062.15. Other large items were: Clothing expense, $1074.86; newspaper advertising bills, $748.29; and cigars and other incidentals will take up $233.95.

QUARTERLY DIVIDEND PAID BY BIG MINING COMPANY

Calumet And Hecla Company Has Paid Out $107,350,000 In Dividends So Far.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—With the payment today of a quarterly dividend of 5 a share the total amount of dividends received by the stockholders of the Calumet and Hecla Mining Company reaches the enormous sum of $107,350,000. The dividends have been paid without interruption since 1871. The capital consists of 100,000 shares of the par value of $25.

To Alexander Agassiz, son of the celebrated scientist, Louis Agassiz, is due the credit for the development of the great Calumet and Hecla property. Alexander Agassiz, like his father before him, is closely associated with Harvard university. As a result of their faith in Agassiz and his discoveries many of the older families of Boston have accumulated millions from their early investments in the copper properties.

Though ultimately better known to the world in other lines, it was as a geologist that Louis Agassiz won his earliest reputation, and it was through his knowledge of geology and mineralogy that Alexander was able to bring out the full value of the property. It was in 1865 that he undertook to see what the Hecla property was like and went to Michigan for that purpose. Copper had been mined there to a greater or lesser extent by the whites since 1845. Agassiz did not get far in his investigations before he became satisfied of the mine's value. Returning to Boston he succeeded in organizing a company and raising sufficient capital to work the mine. He did so well with the Hecla mine that he was asked to develop the Calumet property also. As a result the two were eventually consolidated under the name of the Calumet and Hecla.

Most of the time since 1869 the yield of the Calumet and Hecla has been steady and large. The hard times from 1873 to 1878 cut it down, but as long ago as 1888, in which year the memorable Calumet and Hecla fire did so much damage to the timbering, the annual output was 12,000 tons. Since then it has reached more than 65,000 tons in a single year, a record that has been eclipsed by only one copper property in the world, the Anaconda mine of Montana.

NATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS BEGAN TODAY

Five-Day Session To Be Most Important Ever Held By The Association.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 29.—The sixteenth annual session of the national irrigation congress began here today. Not since the beginning of the movement looking toward government aid in a vast scheme of irrigating the arid west has so much interest been taken in the meeting of the irrigation congress and during the five days sessions irrigation and its kindred subjects, forestry and colonization will not only be discussed but practical illustrations of what irrigation is doing for the west will be given.

The delegates will be taken to the great Elephant Butte dam, where the government has commenced the expenditure of over $8,000,000 in the construction of the largest reservoir for irrigation purposes in the world, and to the Pecos Valley, both completed and in operation, showing completely two of the most important irrigation enterprises in the territory.

The importance of the present session of the congress is evidenced by the large and representative attendance. Delegates are present from all of the western states, and the Mississippi valley has a substantial representation. Among the states sending the largest delegations are Oregon, Washington, Colorado, California, Idaho, Montana, Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, Mexico and several of the countries of South America have sent official representatives. Government experts in forestry and irrigation are on hand and also representatives of numerous colleges, commercial organizations and colonization movements.

The session today was of a preliminary character to perfect the organization of the congress. The programme of papers, addresses and discussions dealing with the irrigation movement in its various phases will be taken up tomorrow. Delegates continue to pour into the city, every train arriving this morning bringing in hundreds interested in the work of the congress.

In connection with the congress there is being held an international industrial exposition of irrigated farm and forest products, together with exhibits of every other industry and natural resources of the country. The work of Indians in various efforts of the country is shown as efforts are being made to encourage the redmen to preserve their handicrafts.

Although irrigation is the primary subject to be discussed at the congress, other matters will not be neglected. The forest service and the department of Agriculture, as well as the United States reclamation service, have sent representatives from Washington who will take part in the discussions.

Indian Chief Who Heads School Board.

INDIAN CHIEF WHO HAS BEEN CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF SCHOOL BOARD IN OKLAHOMA, AND HIS TWO WIVES.

Lawton, Okla.—Since the news has gone broadcast through the medium of the Associated Press that Quannah Parker, half Indian blood chief of the Comanche Indians, has been selected president of a white school district surrounding his mountain mansion in the foothills of the Wichitas, the chief has received many letters soliciting his aid in matrimonial matters.

This character of mail reaches the chief's home daily from all parts of the United States. In this connection it should be known that the leader of the Comanches strongly advocates that his followers—especially the female members—equip themselves with a good education—and a Carlisle schooling where possible—and then "get their cap" for some "pale-face" citizen to title, means or beauty. Quannah's oldest daughter married T. Blundson of Dallas, who won her made Indian agent at Catoche, Okla., near the Quannah reservation. Others of his daughters are expected to marry gentlemen of character among the Anglo-Saxon race.

It was for the education of Quannah's only son, the daughters having already been educated in the Indian school near Lawton, that the chief donated land and funds for this public school where white and Indians will have an equal standing.

which in turn contains an easel and drawers to hold the colors, brushes and palette. The whole folds into a small space and can be carried handily, but when open forms an adjustable easel with paint box attached. The sliding stand can be made any height and the easel, which is hinged to the top of the table, can be fixed at any angle desired. This device is more for use in smaller work, such as copying. For copying work in art galleries it is just the thing needed, as it can be moved from place to place with no trouble.

Itself in sedate old England some of the time. Even now there is considerable agitation against the unlimited use of the popular English beverage.

No body of men in England is more active in behalf of the brewing interest and the "rights of the poor" than the "Beerage" men. This group of men, of which Hon. Rupert Guinness and Hon. John Charles Bell are prominent members, have derived the name of "Beerage" from the fact that they are all titled members of English society.

The "Beerage" proper is composed of peers, one lady of title and a half dozen baronets and knights. Sir John Charles Bell, lord mayor of London, is chairman. He is one of the largest stockholders of the Wemlock Brewing company. He has just been further honored by being made a baronet. There was a time, less than a generation ago, when the conservative English society turned up its nose at anything connected with beer, but today the members of the "Beerage" now give the "glad hand" to all members and they are close friends of the royalty. The entire "Beerage" is composed of persons of great wealth. The present generation were all educated at the smart schools and universities and came into the world with a golden spoon of the grandest of mansions in London and some of the most magnificent country houses and palaces in Ireland and Scotland.

CORSET DEPARTMENT

We make a specialty of Bon Ton and Royal Worcester, and are exclusive agents in Janesville for Bon Ton, Royal Worcester, Lavidia and La Grecque Corsets. We also carry the leading numbers of the W. B., American Lady, Warner Bros., Sahlin and Ferris Waists.

The saleslady in charge of our corset department thoroughly understands fitting, and ladies who are uncertain about the style of corset they should wear can gain much valuable information by talking with her. We have a convenient fitting room with mirrors, electric lights and other conveniences, where one can be properly fitted and save the bother of having to take home from six to a dozen different styles and then not being sure of the one best adapted to her figure.

We have featured the Bon Ton Corsets. They create the fashionable figure. Notable and exclusive features of the high bust, long flat hips and extreme length of back, in exact conformity with prevailing modes. Directoire gowns reveal their charming grace when fitted over the new Bon Ton models. Models for each type of form.

$3.00 TO $10.00

Ladies desiring high class corsets and not finding the proper corset in the Bon Ton line are quite sure to find the desired model in the Lavidia or La Grecque lines.

Our corset business has had wonderful growth during the past two years and is now one of the most complete departments in this part of the state.

STRANGE ESCAPE OF TWO AERONAUTS

BALLOON IN PRUSSIA BURSTS HIGH IN THE AIR.

BAG ACTS AS PARACHUTE

Three Successful Aeroplane Flights by Wilbur Wright at Le Mans, France, Two Being with a Passenger.

Dusseldorf, Rhineland, Germany, Sept. 29.—Capt. Von Abercron and Lieut. Von Goltzheim, well-known aeronauts, had a miraculous escape from death Monday afternoon during the course of an ascent in a spherical balloon. Thousands of spectators had gathered to witness the ascent and they were horror stricken at the accident which occurred high in the air.

On being released from its fastenings the balloon soared almost directly upwards to an altitude of 6,000 feet, when the envelope suddenly ripped open. The gas escaped in streams and the balloon shot downward. The aeronauts swiftly clambered into the network in the desperate hope of avoiding the shock of contact with the ground. After a fall of 2,000 feet, however, the envelope spread out, seemingly in a purely accidental manner, forming a sort of parachute which checked the descent. The balloon then gradually came down, taking an hour and a half to reach the earth, the two men clinging to the ropes and the basket. They suffered no injury except a few scratches. The cause of the accident was the sudden expansion of gas.

Wright Makes Three Flights.

Le Mans, Sept. 29.—Wilbur Wright, the American aeronaut, made three successful flights Monday evening. On the first flight he was unaccompanied, and remained in the air for one hour, seven minutes, 11 1/2 seconds, covering a distance of about 30 miles.

On the second flight he was accompanied by the aeronautist Tissandier, and he succeeded in beating the record for flight with passengers by remaining up 11 minutes 2 1/2 seconds. His previous flight with a passenger was made on Friday last, when he remained in the air nine minutes 13 1/2 seconds at a height of 50 feet. Count de Lambert was his passenger on the third trip, when he covered about 2 1/2 miles in six minutes and 15 seconds.

FOOTBALL PLAYER BADLY HURT.

Yale Student Kicked in Head and Made Unconscious.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 29.—While playing with the scrub team against the Yale varsity football team on Yale field Monday, Lewis Baker Warren of New York, a member of the class of 1910, Sheffield Scientific school, was kicked on the head and rendered unconscious. He was removed to the gymnasium, where, on recovering consciousness, he became violently insane. He fought with other members of the team for an hour and a half, when he was taken to the Yale infirmary, where he again lapsed into unconsciousness, in which state he still remains.

Warren was formerly a member of the Vanderbilt university football team and was showing up exceedingly well in practice here.

Waterbury, Conn., Sept. 29.—Wilfred Balchazur, the Waterbury high school football player whose spinal column was fractured during a practice game, died at the local hospital as a result of the injuries.

ISLANDS SWEEP BY STORM

HURRICANE IN BAHAMAS WAS MOST DISASTROUS.

Settlements Practically Obliterated and Many Lives Lost—Inhabitants Are in Great Distress.

Nassau, Bahamas, Sept. 29.—Only fragmentary reports have yet reached the seat of government here as to the damage done to the outlying islands of the dependency which were ravaged by a hurricane recently, but such news as has arrived is sufficiently bad.

The storm appears to have originated near Turks Island and swept with ever-increasing fury up the long string of islands running southeast from here, Inagua, Acklin, Crooked, Ragged, Fortune, Long, Watlings, Rum Cay, Exuma and the south part of Andros islands all appear to have suffered. On Long Island the gale blew for two days and the settlements are practically obliterated from end to end, the principal place, Chincocetown, having only five houses left standing. The inhabitants were forced to find shelter in caves, and food and water are almost unobtainable.

The government schooner Sarah E. Douglas was blown from her anchorage at Long Cay and was driven ashore on Long Island. Many other boats were lost, but it will be weeks before the full accounts will reach Nassau. There is no doubt that the loss of life is heavy. The whole countryside, even so far as Cat Island, is burnt as if with fire from the terrible driving of the salt water across the land. While the actual money loss is insignificant, the houses destroyed for the most part being more shanties, nevertheless the loss to the owners is severe, representing as it does practically everything that they possessed.

The government has taken relief measures and schooners are being daily dispatched laden with foodstuffs, lumber and bails.

CONTESTS BROTHER'S WILL.

F. C. Hewitt's Sister Fights Gift of Millions to Charity.

Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Mrs. Stephen T. Arnot of this city Monday began a contest of the will of her late brother, Frederick C. Hewitt of Owego, who left several millions of dollars to charity and made no mention of Mrs. Arnot. The contest is taken on the general grounds that Mr. Hewitt was not competent to make a will at the time he distributed his property. It is also claimed that undue influence was brought to bear upon him. Mrs. Arnot is the millionaire's nearest relative surviving. She is an aged woman, said to be worth more than a million, and lately has been in ill health.

Canadian Athletes Win at Rome. Rome, Sept. 29.—Although the full list of the prize winners at the gymnastic contests held in honor of the

OCTOBER WEATHER

IS TO BE STORMY

JANESVILLE RESIDENTS WARNED

TO PREPARE FOR FALL.

REV. IRL HICKS' FORECAST

St. Louis Long Range Prophet Hands

Out His Climatic Changes

For Coming Month.

Since time immemorial the weather prophet has been an important personage in all countries. Men who could read the stars and by their agency foretell great happenings, have been honored at courts of rulers from early days. In Egypt the little tribe of the court of the Pharaohs and its seers.

We find the ancient Greeks believing in the forecasts of the priests, the Romans also had their forecasters, even in China today they are important personages. History teaches us of the seers at the court of the great Charlemagne. Every New England community has its local weather prophet who, foretelling weather by twinges of rheumatism and whether the winter will be cold or not by the goose bone or muskrat houses or supply of nuts.

Reverend Irl Hicks is one of the most prominent of the weather prophets of today and each month he issues in a little magazine his forecast for the coming thirty days. His October prognostication is as follows and predicts dire storms for the country at large.

"A regular storm period beginning in September, will extend at least two days in October, during which days stormy winds will be over sections toward the Atlantic, and sharp anti-storm conditions—that is, rising barometer, northerly winds and change to colder will be advancing from west to east behind the storms. It is quite probable that early snow squalls may come with the northern and western tangents of these storms.

"A reactionary storm period is central on the 10th, 11th and 12th.

The chances are that disagreeable, autumnal weather will continue into this period from the preceding period, with an increase of cloudiness, fall of the barometer and quickened rain and snow storms on and touching the 10th.

The moon is at extreme south declination at this time, also at first quarter, hence winds will naturally flow from northerly directions. In most parts, adding blackness and autumnal chill to the weather.

"A regular storm period is central on the 10th, covering the 10th to the 15th, inclusive. The 10th to the 15th of earth's autumnal equinox, in diminished force, will extend into this period, as will also the beginning of the mercury disturbance. The storm diagram for October illustrates these facts. The opposition of the planet saturn with earth and sun on September 30th, will also be a disturbing factor at this period, and also at the two or three preceding storm periods. The moon is in perigee on the 7th, also at full moon and on the celestial equator on the 9th. There are valid reasons to hope that autumnal unrest will have greatly subsided by this time, but within three days of sunset on the 9th is a period of marked seismic probability. Change to low barometer, much warmer and growing cloudiness will appear at the beginning of this period, especially in extreme southwest parts of the continent, and during the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th, storms of wide magnitude and marked violence will visit many parts of the country. Peril on the coast—coasts should take no one by surprise at the beginning of this period, and all should know that danger is probable on the lakes and in the lake regions before its close. On or not far from the 9th you will hear of, or witness, some big autumnal storms and gales. Northern states will have early snow about the 10th to 12th, and an October cold wave will slip down over the country between the 9th and the 14th.

"A reactionary storm period will express itself on the 15th, 16th and 17th. On and touching these dates look for change to warmer, falling barometer, change of wind directions with return of cloudiness and precipitation. This period is at moon's last quarter. The mercury period is cen-

cloudiness, resulting in autumnal deluge, winding up with about its maximum in the general outlook for this period. Rising barometer, sharp northerly winds, frosts and some freezing will mark the 18th to the 20th, over most parts of the country northward. The breath of Barvas, tempered or somewhat as it goes southward, will reach the Gulf regions.

"A regular storm period covers the 21st to the 25th. The 22nd is the central date of this period, but it will reach beyond its normal limits because of the moon's conjunction with earth and sun on the 25th. By the 23rd, low barometer and autumnal thunder storms will be in progress from west to east, and these conditions will cover wider areas and rain in intensity as they march across the country.

Barometric pressure will rise, the temperature will fall to decidedly cold readings, and boreal gales will follow from the northwest immediately in the wake of these storms. The 22nd to 27th is another period of decided seismic possibility.

"A reactionary storm period falls centrally on the 27th, 28th and 29th.

The moon reaches its extreme south declination on the 30th, not far from first quarter on November 1st. Hence northerly gales and boreal storms will mark this period and the closing days of the month. It will be well to figure on snow squalls in northern sections on and touching the 28th and 29th.

Following the storm areas, the barometer will rise rapidly and marked change to colder will spread generally from west to east by the end of October.

"There is, as a rule, a decided spurt of cold several weeks in advance of settled winter, and with a spell of light, moderate weather intervening.

This is especially true at times when a Venus equinox falls late in September, or early in October. These months are free from the Venus problem of a premature dash of winter are minimized for this month. If we are to have such visitation, the probability is that it will come during one of the storm periods covered by the mercury brace.

IMPORTANT MEETING

RELATIVE TO RIVER

Gathering at Dixon on October 8th and 7th Full of Interest to Janesville Residents.

There is a question whether or not

Rock river could be made navigable or not, making a waterway from Janesville to the Mississippi. This important matter is to be the subject of the first annual meeting of the proposed Rock River Improvement Association which meets at Dixon, Ill., on October 8th and 7th.

Years ago when the river was high er, before the timber had been cut from its banks and water supply has been, Rock river was visited at high water by Mississippi river steamers and freight was transported from the Rock river valley to the lower Mississippi basin. Then came the rains and cutting of the timber and the rock dwindled down to a stream of shallows and sand bars.

At the Dixon meeting the question of securing aid from congress to make the Rock river again navigable is to be discussed. Janesville will send a goodly representation to the
